New Year's day callers came and went all day. Saturday afternoon was devoted to the junior department. An enjoyable party was arranged for them under direction of Miss Bernice Eggleston in the big gymnasium, at 520 West Washington street. WATCH ACRE CITY—"Acre City must have paved streets," says a citizen of that locality, who added, "and maybe you think we can't afford it. The Acre City citizens have resolved to pave Division street and the state is going to pave National avenue. It looks like money when a ranchman brings in 1000 big fat turkeys and sell them off in a few hours at 10 cents a piece. Acre City is always there with the goods, chicken ranchers and garden land."

COMMISSION MEETS AUTOISTS—To receive protests from the auto-to-hire proprietors against the $50 payable in advance license fee and the $1,000 bond requirements, the city commission held a special session yesterday afternoon. Franco, the police believe they have captured the man who entered the Wolf & Wolf establishment a night or two ago and stole a quantity of suits and overcoats. Immediate relatives of Mrs. Chadwick are three daughters residing in or near Phoenix, Mrs. Anna Brown, Mrs. Alice Gatts and Mrs. Nettie Hyde. A brother, Dr. Samuel G. Smith, lives at Hannibal, Missouri.

THE REPUBLICAN'S DANCING CLASS

On page 10 of today's issue, The Republican presents to its readers the first of a series of lessons in the new dances by John Murray-Anderson.

The fact that these new dances have taken on the general public is nothing short of remarkable and the benefit to be derived by having them taught in their standardized form by such an authority as John Murray-Anderson is incalculable. These lessons were prepared especially for The Republican by Mr. Anderson and will deal in a comprehensive and lucid manner with the various steps of the Hesitation Waltz, "Fox Trot", "Lulu Pado", "One Step", "Maxixe", "Half and Half" and other dances of national fame. Today's lesson contains a great deal of preliminary information of vital importance to the successful following of this course of instruction.

This is but one of many features to be found only in The Republican. IF YOU HAVE NOT ALREADY DONE SO SUBSCRIBE TO IT NOW.

Fields, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Roberts, Miss Marion Sequichie, Miss Francis Roberts, Mr. L. E. Dean and Mr. C. N. Eron.
